Marion sustained internal and head injuries and was unconscious. Foster was also in a serious condition, with multiple injuries.

The Stayton car was traveling southwest and hit the rear unit of the E. J. & E. train No. 4 east bound for Porter, Ind., according to Capt. W. H. Morris, State Officer Herma Deeke, who made the investigation. The freight train had almost cleared the crossing when the automobile hit it, leaving 9 feet of skid marks with its tires. Both youths were pinned to the wreckage of their car which was a 1950 model. When freed they were taken to the St. James hospital in Chicago Heights in West End ambulances.

Finds Salamanders
While Milking Cows

Wednesday morning as Scott McBride, who lives with his wife and small son in the Brick Tavern farm on Lincoln highway east of New Lenox, was milking his cows he saw something unusual on the barn floor. On investigation he discovered that the creatures which caught his attention were eleven baby salamanders, which Webster describes as "a lizard-like amphibian without scales, formerly fabled to live in an extinguished fire." Unfortunately nine of the salamanders were dead but two were alive, very active, and very slippery. Mr. McBride succeeded in capturing the two survivors and imprisoned them in a bucket partially filled with water. They will endeavor to keep these two salamanders alive.

The salamanders evidently came from a nearby pond, which is about 150 feet distant from the barn, but the cause of death of the nine little salamanders is anybody's guess.

The elder salamanders were not to be seen. The little ones were all the same size, about five inches long, with four legs and five toes on each leg. A picture of the salamanders will be shown in next week's issue.

The McBrides moved from Perryville, Ind., to the brick tavern farm on Lincoln highway about five weeks ago.

COOPER CLAN HAVE ANNUAL GET-TOGETHER

About 140 members of the Cooper clan gathered at the old Cooper homestead near Orland, Ill., July 26, which was attended by six generations.

On arrival, each was registered at the gate by Mrs. Everett Cooper, assisted by Jean, Katharine and Marilyn Cooper, and identification badges presented.

When all had been assembled, Rev. Mohr, of DeMotte, Ind., gave the invocation, after which the sumptuous potluck dinner was enjoyed by everyone.

Following the dinner the program was presented. It was given this year by the Mokena Coopers, with Everett Cooper the capable chairman and emcee.

The record player and loud speaker was in charge of Jimmie Cooper.

After the welcoming speech by the chairman and singing by the entire group a short business session was held, and the committee chosen for the 1954 reunion, as follows:

Miss Amy Cooper, Goodland, Ind., chairman; Mrs. Lucille Ricketts, Mokena, co chairman; Miss Olive Cooper, Goodland, Ind., secretary and treasurer Charles Cooper, Orland.

The program was dedicated to Edgar H. Cooper and Will Cooper, who are the oldest members of the Cooper clan, and are 89 and 87 years old, respectively, and the only ones surviving of the second generation.

The program consisted of a series of skits portraying something typical of each generation. No. 1 skit, second generation. Arrival of Edgar and Will Cooper, by coach drawn by two white horses. After being greeted by the chairman, they were given the seats of honor for the remainder of the program.

Skit 2, third generation. The old country store, of 1908.

Skit 3, fourth generation. The old Model "T" car and two flappers in costumes of that day.

Skit 4, fifth generation. School days, with the little red school house, and singing of the song, "School Days."

Skit 5, sixth generation. Cradle with baby doll in it.

Taking part in the skits and responsible for props and stage settings were Mr. and Mrs. Everett Cooper, Jean, Jim and Katharine, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stellwagen and Joan Stellwagen, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cooper, Dolores and Marilyn, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Neithammer, Audrey and Don Reiter, Miss Celia Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cooper.

Following the skits, which seemed to be enjoyed greatly by all present, judging from the applause, the door prize was awarded to Mrs. Agnes Sayres. Ice cream, cake and pop were enjoyed after the program.

Games for the children were under the direction of Jean, Marilyn and Jim Cooper.

Another feature which created much interest and reminiscing was a large board on an easel on which were pictures from "the old family album." This had been arranged by Mrs. Ralph Stellwagen and Mrs. Elmer Cooper.

Those who came the greatest distance were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ingle of St. Petersburg, Fla. and Mr. and Mrs. George Bassett and daughter, Jean, of Ontario, Wis. Others came from Goodland, Brook and DeMotte, Ind., Rockford, Morris, Joliet, Elmhurst, Round Lake, Evergreen Park, Mokena and Orland.

For the finale to this grand occasion everyone joined in the friendship circle and sang a verse and the chorus of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." As the song ended, came the sound of "taps" on a trumpet blown by Jimmie Cooper, who was concealed from view.

The Cooper clan departed for their homes about 5 p.m. after a most enjoyable day spent together.

Private Enterprise
Could do Better Job
With Post Office*AN EDITORIAL

There is a great deal of talk floating around these days about another increase in postal rates. One where letters which now cost three cents to mail would cost four cents. Behind all this is the specter of a tremendous postal debt each year, notwithstanding the big cut in postal service, especially in the large cities, where deliveries to homeowners were reduced from one to two per day some years ago with corresponding cuts in deliveries to offices. The post office is losing money at the rate of two million dollars a day, according to Postmaster Summerfield. During a recent tour of the Mid West he said: "We are trying to conduct a commercial type of operation with an income and outgo, but we are losing money."

Of course they are losing money. How could it be otherwise the way they are operating?

We do not have to look far to discover the reasons why the post office is eternally in the red, regardless of constantly advancing postal rates. To cite an example or two, the government which is in the printing business on a large scale, will print stamped envelopes for any body ordering them at a price that no printer could hope to compete with, and we might add, at a price that represents a loss to the government. Uncle Sam loses money every time he prints an order of stamped envelopes, the larger the order the more money he loses.

For example, the cost of 100 3 cent stamped envelopes, No. 9 which corresponds to the legal size No. 10 in commercial printing, is $3.64 at the post office. This is without a printed corner card. The cost of the postage in this case amounts to $3, leaving a balance of 64 cents to cover the cost of 100 legal size envelopes, and overhead. The government loses money here as 64 cents is less than the stock cost.

The cost of 250 stamped envelopes with a corner card printed in the upper left hand corner is $9.19 at the post office. Now, the cost of setting up and printing these envelopes, even in a government printing office would be at least $2.50 for the labor alone. The cost of 3 cent postage for 250 envelopes would be $7.50. Cost of 250 envelopes at wholesale prices would be $2.50. Here we have total charges amounting to $12.50 for 250 stamped, printed envelopes, for which the U. S. post office gets only $9.19—a loss of $3.31 on a very small order. In fact, there is a much bigger loss involved here, as a reasonable profit for overhead has not been figured in. In case of an order for 250,000 stamped envelopes printed with corner card the loss to the U. S. and its taxpayers would be quite substantial.

Another example: The cost of mailing a souvenir post card is 2 cents. You buy the card and affix a two-cent stamp. The cost of a U. S. postal card is two cents, the stamp, card and printing being supplied for that amount. No margin of profit here.

This loss of two million dollars a day in the postal service amounts to a sizable bill at the end of the year, which must be borne by U. S. taxpayers, whether they ever buy a three cent stamp or not.

Most of us who fear socialism seem to ignore the fact that our postal service is America's outstanding example of socialism in action. Our telephone service, electric service, gas service and telegraph service are being handled efficiently by private enterprise, and many people are beginning to wonder why the postal service is not turned over to private enterprise. In what way does it differ from these other services that the government must handle it exclusively?

Captains of industry believe they are able to handle big business enterprises more efficiently and economically than the government, as one tremendous item of expense—politics—would be removed. Many people throughout the country who have studied this problem have long been convinced that the government would save hundreds of millions of dollars annually for our hard-pressed taxpayers if it would close up the post office department and let private enterprise handle the job.

Raymond Luther,
New Lenox, Weds
Mt. Prospect Girl

Miss Marjorie Helen Peters, daughter of Mrs. Ray A. Peters, Sr. and the late Ray A. Peters, 1215 Webster Lane, Des-Plaines, became the bride of Raymond C. Luther, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence B. Luther, New Lenox at 2:30 p.m. the afternoon of July 11 in the South Church, at Mount Prospect.

The Rev. Edwin I. Stevens, officiated at the ceremony. Mr. Gordon S. Harry was soloist, and Prof. Theodore Lams organist. The candlelight ceremony was performed before an altar adorned with baskets of white gladioli and candelabra entwined with greens and ivy.

Given in marriage by her brother, Ray A. Peters, Jr., the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over skinner satin, with long pointed lace sleeves. Pleated nylon tulle crossed the shoulders and formed a V neckline. The bottom of the full lace skirt was finished with two layers of pleated nylon ruffles, which were fashioned to give an acorn effect in the back. The bottom ruffle flared to form chapel train. Her illusion veil was held in place by a small headpiece of lace and seed pearls, crown effect, which the bride made herself. The flowers in her bouquet were stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Dorothy Heidorn of Arlington Heights maid of honor, was attired in an orchid organ-dy, ballerina length gown, styled with full skirt, and bertha collar which was fastened at the waist with wide purple velvet belt. Her face veil of orchid was fastened at the back with purple ribbon and a small cluster of rosebuds, and larkspur.

Miss Kathy Shanklin of Arlington Heights was bridesmaid. She was attired identically to the maid of honor. Both carried a bouquet of pink roses, and purple larkspur.

Linda Kadlec of Mount Prospect was flower girl. Her gown was made like that of the maid of honor and bridesmaid, in white organ-dy, with purple velvet belt. Her flowers were a small replica of colonial bouquet and small flowers in her hair.

James Luther, attended his brother as best man and Lester Luther, another brother was groomsmen, Louis E. Balbinot, brother in law, of the groom was usher.

The bride's mother chose an embroidered blue gray shantung dress with matching accessories. The groom's mother wore a light blue printed nylon over aqua taffeta, with white accessories. Both wore a corsage of Rubrum lilies.

A reception was held for approximately 100 friends and relatives in the Fellowship hall at the church, immediately following the ceremony. After a wedding trip to Lake Delavan, Wis., the couple will stop in Missouri and Dallas, Texas, enroute to Phoenix, Ariz., where they will make their new home.

The bride attended the University of Illinois and Illinois State Normal university at Normal; and the groom was graduated from JTHS and JJC and from the University of Illinois, and is currently in business in Phoenix.

Two bills have just been passed in the Illinois state legislature which seriously affect public school administration. They are House Bills 757 and 758.

House Bill 757 abolishes township school trustees in counties less than 180,000 population, and requires each school board of directors consisting of three members to appoint a person who is also treasurer of a district for a seven member board of education. In case a school board of three members underlies one or more high school districts they must then appoint the person who is treasurer of the high school in their district. Will county has a population of 134,000, according to the last census. Will county, therefore, would come under this new law, which goes into effect July 1, 1954. The second part of that bill abolishes permanent funds of townships commonly known as "loanable fund," if the average income from this fund for three years is not $2500 or more.

These funds so abolished by July 1, 1954, would then be distributed to the underlying school districts of the townships.

The law establishes what will be known as township land commission, which will manage this permanent school fund where the income is $2500 or more. This newspaper, at first thought, without having had time to study this new law, does not approve of doing away with the township school trustees, as it seems to us this is traveling in the direction of centralized control. Now, in the case of a township having just school directors of a three man board all their school funds would be managed by one person, who is the treasurer of the high school of their district.

We were either asleep on the job or not aware of this bill being up for passage. The Joliet Chamber of Commerce, together with County Supt. Verne Cracker, sent their protest to the legislature regarding this setup.

RESTAURANT
OPENS ON RT. 30
NEAR WOLF RD.

A new restaurant was opened July 20 in the vicinity of Frankfort and Mokena, which features 85 per cent home grown food. This restaurant, called the Valley View Farm restaurant, is located at the former Chris Warming farm on route 30, just east of Wolf road. The new owners, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jurack, of Chicago, who bought the farm about six months ago, have converted the first floor of the home into a restaurant. The restaurant room, which is walled with knotty pine, is 32 by 45 feet, and the kitchen is 15 by 20 feet.

One of the attractions is the wooded wonderland adjoining, with a creek winding through, where children may romp and play. Children will also get a great deal of pleasure looking at the farm animals, as many do not know what a farm animal looks like.

The Juracks have had ten years experience in this line in Chicago, and are furnishing an excellent menu. The restaurant is already enjoying a fine patronage.

Orland Park 211W

Mr. and Mrs. George Estand received word last week from their son Ray that he had landed in Southampton, England. While in England, an English lad took him to his home for the night. He had an opportunity to see some of the buildings that had been bombed in World War II. He had a 24 hour leave before he embarked for Germany. This week's letter stated that he had arrived in Heidelberg.

Mrs. Richard Ahlrep spent a week of her vacation at home. The 33rd annual department convention of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held in the Palmer House in Chicago, August 6, 7 and 8 inclusive. Elsie Robson, president, H. Adele Cooper, president elect of Orland Unit 526 will attend as delegates and Lilah Kruspe, as 8th district director, and Alice Sorley and Lillian Knox as alternate delegates. The unit dinner will be held Saturday evening, August 8.

Rev. and Mrs. Dewey Mounts, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene in Orland Park, are visiting his mother in Matewan, W. Va. The second day of his visit, he held a service and underwent an appendectomy. He is doing nicely. Rev. Robert Pryor of Kankakee is in charge of services in Rev. Mounts' absence. Floyd Hauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rauch is stationed in Korea where he arrived last week.

Sgt. Richard Klotz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klotz went to Paris, France on a 5 day tour. He saw many interesting points of interest, but still thinks the USA is tops. He prefers Orland or Chicago as the place to live. He also toured Lucerne, Switzerland.

Robert Manning and Tony Cosentino have written letters of appreciation to the editor and thanking the American Legion for sending the Orland Park Herald. This is in error as the Boy Scouts are the sponsors of this fine gesture of keeping the boys aware of what's going on in their home town. All the Scouts who were registered in good standing when entering the service are receiving the Herald. Karen Perkowski accompanied by her grandmother, Mrs. Grace Toelle, has returned from a three week's vacation to Monticello, Ind. and Silver Lake, Mich. She reports while in Michigan, the weather was chilly and the evenings cold.

Mrs. Nina Kay who has been vacationing with her son Gordon and family in Huntington Park, Calif. the past month, expects to be home the latter part of this month.

The Earl Reish Jr. family, James Hebel family and Ellisworth Uthe family have returned from a week's vacation in Venician village, near Antioch. They report that fishing was good.

The Edwin Lucas family have returned from a vacation and fishing trip at Tomahawk, Wis.

About 38 friends and relatives gathered at the Jas. L. McClaughry home in Chicago Sunday afternoon for a farewell party in honor of their daughter Marian and husband Richard B. Ulmer. They are moving to Kansas where Richard has accepted a teaching task in a Lutheran school. Marian and Richard were married last November.

A buffet supper was served to guests from Joliet, Gary, Ind., Chicago and Orland Park. Grandpa Ulmer and Grandpa Wm. Schmidt of Orland were present.

Lofty Quest for Uranium

EVEN MORE dramatic than the gold rush days is America's quest for uranium ore, now under way high on the rugged Colorado Plateau. At Uravan, below, ore mined in the Rockies is refined. Town was named for "ura" in uranium, "van" in vanadium.

ONCE PROCESSING is completed, uranium, below, has a black, sticky form. Drying reduces the material to powder.

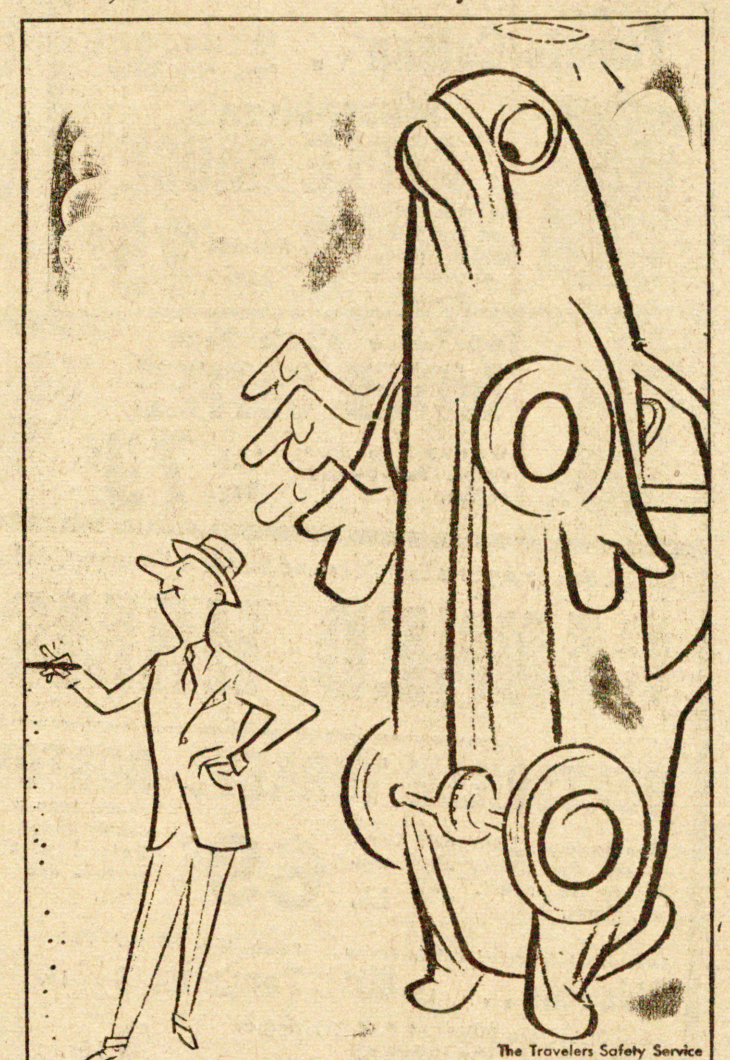

SANDSTONE near this typical mining structure yields carnotite. From it are derived traces of uranium ore.

MOUNTAIN-CLIMBING International trucks, one of which is shown in background, haul the ore to mills from nearly inaccessible mines. Miners examine ore for yellow streak, proof of uranium.

Stars of the Hollywood Ice Review enjoy summer outings, such as backyard turkey barbecues, while practicing for their fall and winter skating performances throughout America. Star performers on ice and stars of barbecuing at outdoor fireplaces are Carol Lynne (standing) and Dee Larkin, ooth of Chicago. Carol applies the barbecue sauce to a quarter of a turkey while Dee holds turkey on long-handled fork used for turning the birds during barbecuing. The girls insist that barbecuing, unlike ice skating, requires no practice.

NEW AUTHOR

A prolific new author has appeared on the American literary scene. She is Camille De Rose, whose first book, the "Camille De Rose Story" has become a nationwide best seller.

Miss De Rose's autobiography lucidly describes her life up to its climax in 1951 when she became the vortex of the Cicero riots. While her first novel is achieving national acclaim for being an honest, startling account of a woman's life, she is busy at work on her second book, a fictional account of a modern woman of many loves.

CHICKEN DINNER
by Science Features

A generation ago the chicken dinner was something to enjoy only on Sundays and festive occasions. Last year you and other Americans ate $86,000,000 fried chickens. Thanks to modern mass growing methods, chicken has become an everyday dish, fitting easily into the food budget of the average family. Your nutrition and health are the better for it.

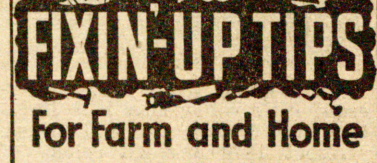

However, along with intensive production have appeared new and costly poultry diseases which threaten to disrupt the poultry industry. Unless such diseases are quickly controlled, chicken may revert to its old status as a luxury dish and a rich source of protein will be cut off.

A bright spot in the battle to control poultry diseases is the recent announcement that "air sac" infection of chickens can be cured. This disease, properly known as chronic respiratory disease, has killed millions of dollars worth of broilers and laying hens annually since 1951.

According to Dr. B. T. Simms, chief of the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry, half the chickens in an infected flock frequently die.

The fight against "air sac" is being won with the help of a new weapon—terramycin. It's the same drug used to treat more than 80 human ailments. In this case, the antibiotic is mixed with mineral oil and injected into the birds.

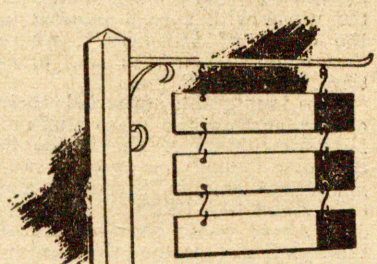

We may expect the chicken dinner to continue to delight the palate and sustain the health of us all.

Roadside Chain Sign

A GOOD looking chain sign, located near the curb or roadside, can be an effective way of selling products or services. The sign may be made at little expense of materials obtained from any lumber yard.

In the sign illustrated, the materials used were a 4 by 4-inch post, tapered to a point; a Masonite Presdwood product known as Tempered Duolux, which is 3/16" thick and smooth on both sides; an iron angle for suspending the signs, and pieces of light chain for fastening them together.

The Tempered Duolux, after being primed and painted, may be lettered with a sales message. Of course, the post and other parts of the installation should be painted too, and the portion of the post in the ground should first be treated with creosote or a similar preservative.

The dark squares at the right are painted with a slate material. Use chalk to mark the prices of the commodities or services offered.

Ingalls Memorial Hospital Reports For June

Although patient census in a hospital usually drops markedly during the summer months, Ingalls Memorial hospital reports 684 patients cared for during June, the second highest monthly census of 1953.

145 babies were born during June, bringing total births at Ingalls to 749 for the first six months of the year. According to L. C. Mortrud, administrator reporting to the executive committee of the hospital on Wednesday of his week, days of patient care totaled 3125.

June was a peak month for operations, 251 having been performed, making a total of 1317 operations so far this year. 68 blood transfusions were administered, bringing the six month total to 603. John Bardwick, Jr., president of the hospital, commented that this utilization of the blood bank indicated the importance of this facility. "The Blood Bank has now been in operation one and one-half years and it is impossible to overestimate its importance in terms of lives saved and patients more quickly returned to health."

All other services reflected the high patient census, 2,268 laboratory examinations were made, a total of 13,738 to date in 1953. The X-ray department reported 1250 examinations, bringing its six month total to 8090.

The dietary department served 12,003 meals, making a total of 77,112 meals served in 1953. 28 residents of Tinley Park were hospitalized at Ingalls during June.

New Labor Saving Farm Implement To Be Produced in 1953

A new farm implement which renovates pastures in one easy operation, doing away with a large amount of manual labor, was described in the June issue of The Record, official monthly magazine of the Illinois Agricultural Association.

The renovator re-seeds and fertilizes a pasture in a single step, without need of plowing up old sod. The new implement eliminates seedbed preparation, according to the article. Formerly pastures had to be torn up, seeded and then rolled.

Here's how the machine works: "A notched, rolling coupler cuts and slices open the sod. A shank with a diamond shaped point containing a fertilizer applicator helps sprinkle fertilizer in the bottom of a small furrow.

"Then a large seed applicator drops seed such as orchard grass and broom to a depth of 1 3/4 inches. Next a packing wheel firms the seedbed, much the same as a roller. The small seeder, consisting of a trough and hoses, broadcasts the smaller seeds on top of the covered trench."

The machine, which weighs about one ton, is mounted on rubber tires. It renovates and plants a strip eight feet wide. The rate of seeding can be adjusted, but normally the machine covers three to four acres an hour, the Record reports.

Any small tractor can pull the implement, which is an excellent soil conservation tool since it builds little terraces. The seven cutter seeder fertilizer units on the machine are individually mounted, and can "float" up and down to give even depth.

"The renovator is therefore good for both level and contour work. Another advantage," the article said, "is that cattle aren't kept off the pasture for a long period of time. They have to be taken off only while new grass is coming up."

The Record reports that the machine is scheduled to go into production sometime during 1953.

The Illinois Agricultural Association is the state wide Farm Bureau organization with more than 196,000 farmer members.

Australian Farmers To Tour Northern Illinois Farms

Thirty-three Australian farmers and farm women will visit farms in six northern Illinois counties July 31 and August 1 as a part of the Coronation World Farm Tour. Arrangements for this two-day portion of the world tour are being handled by the Illinois Agricultural Association, statewide farm bureau organization. The Australian farmers are spending one month in the United States, visiting historic sites, farms, agricultural industries, markets and other places of interest.

Ivan Archibald, of New Lenox, will be among the farmers who will play host to the farmers from "Down Under."

Made Delegate to Homemakers Meet

Doris Johnson, daughter of Edward C. Johnson, Palos Park, a sophomore in Orland Palos high school, was selected delegate to the conference of the Illinois Future Homemakers of America state leadership training conference at Lake Bloomington, Ill., in session from July 27 to 31. Doris is the president of the local chapter for the school year 1954, having held this office during the past year. She is one of about 600 delegates in attendance.

Seventy-seven per cent of the fatal motor vehicle accidents last year occurred on straight roads, according to the 1953 edition of "Accident Facts," the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook.

Weeds Use More Water Than Corn

Best reason for cultivating and clipping for weed control is that weeds use more water than crops.

Carl F. Mees, Farm Adviser, says that the average ragweed plant, for example, uses five times as much water for growth as a corn plant.

And a common mustard plant not only uses four times as much water as corn, but also takes twice as much nitrogen and phosphorus and four times as much potash from the soil.

So give your crops a break and keep weeds out of your fields. Don't forget how important it is to clip your pastures and stubble fields, Mees says.

Good Program at Midget Auto Races In Joliet Saturday

Sonny Bessette, Joliet's most popular driver who moved into third place in the point standings last Saturday night to become the first midget pilot to win two consecutive feature races, will try to make it three in a row Saturday night in Joliet Memorial Stadium.

No driver has yet to win three straight feature races in the two-year history of midget racing on the Joliet oval.

DUBUQUE, IA.—In a picturesque little valley near here lies a tiny, old world village: St. Donatus. About 1840 a small colony of immigrants from Luxembourg settled in Iowa and tried to duplicate in every way the architecture, customs, dress and religious habits which they had left behind in their native land.

The old world village now has become an attraction for tourists and vacationers. Visitors from cities east of the Mississippi reach the village of legends by taking Highway 64, fast and scenic route. In its early days, Iowa was a Mecca not for the farmer but for the miner. The district lead drew attention of lead producers all over the world with special interest in the duchy of Luxembourg, where that industry had been long practiced.

The immigrants quarried their own stone from the sharp bluffs of Niagara limestone. The blocks in the home foundations average two-and-a-half feet in thickness and they stand like Gibraltar even today. Above photo shows ruins of the beautiful limestone the Luxemburg settlers quarried for their buildings.

These Mortes ("Heads of the Dead") stream winds through the beautiful wooded valley.

The first outdoor Way of the Cross in America, which now attracts hundreds to St. Donatus on Good Friday each year, was built in 1861 under Fr. Michael Flammang's direction. Fourteen beautiful brick shrines were built in a winding pattern up the hill behind the church. On the summit stands a little chapel built in 1885 as a memorial to the pioneer priest.

Many of the present day inhabitants are descendants of the original settlers. The visitor to St. Donatus is struck by the strange contrast between the heritage of the past: old houses, weathered church, tiny cemetery with soft gold fungus covered tombstones—and the present: modern park station, new frame tavern and a few up-to-date houses.

Annual Historic Tour Of Galena Homes September 26 and 27

The weekend of September 26 and 27 has been named as the date for the fourth annual tour of historic Galena homes according to Mrs. Walter Ehrler, chair man of the Tour Historic Galena Homes committee. The project is sponsored by the Guild members of the First Presbyterian Church of Galena, Illinois, itself the oldest church in the State still being used regularly for worship services. Guides and hostesses garbed in nineteenth century dresses and bonnets will welcome visitors to eight privately owned homes, each of distinctive architectural styling and each with its own historic story.

One of the attractions is the rose brick home of U. S. Grant, who lived and worked in Galena before taking command of the Union Forces in the Civil War.

Other homes to be opened will be the Old Rock House (1845) once occupied by Galena's first mayor; the Dobule Miner's cottage (1838) with original floors, fireplaces and windows untouched; the famed Chatain Acres (1832) home of Augustus L. Chetlain, one of Galena's nine Civil War Generals; the pillared mansion built by General John E. Smith in 1847, which is an outstanding example of Greek Revival architecture; a typical Maryland type farm home (1854) furnished with original furniture; the former home of Mayor Thomas A. Melville, uncle of the author of Moby Dick, built in the early 1840's, and a Victorian mansion situated on Prospect Hill overlooking the city. The mahogany dining room furniture in this home was taken from the old Stage Coach Inn at Council Hill.

The homes chosen for the tour reflect the "Golden Period" of Galena's architectural development. Additional information to gether with a Galena folder is available from the Tour Historic Galena Homes committee.

Pet, Toy Parade To Be Held in Joliet August 4

Uncle Johnny Coons, NBC's noontime comics television star, known to children throughout the country, will headline the Pet and Toy parade Tuesday, August 4. Children 15 years of age and under from the Mokena area are welcomed as entrants in the parade which will begin promptly at 2:00 p.m. from the corner of Ottawa and Washington streets in Joliet. The parade will move north on Chicago street, to Central school grounds.

Entry blanks can be secured from the Joliet association of commerce, 35 West Van Buren street, Joliet. Youngsters will have a choice of 18 classifications to enter in competing for 41 prizes. Two new, fully equipped bicycles head the long list of valuable awards to be made at the completion of the Pet and Toy parade.

On the anniversary of the day he made his first auto rental, Walter L. Jacobs, founder of the International Hertz Rent-A-Car System, exhibits the car that launched an industry. Here Jacobs shows one of 12 Model T Fords with which he began his business in 1920 to Philip Bretz, who tries out the old Klaxon horn. Today, Jacobs' firm operates 14,000 cars in all parts of the world.

POLIO PRECAUTIONS

DON'T mix with new groups

DON'T get overtired

DON'T get chilled

BUT DO keep clean

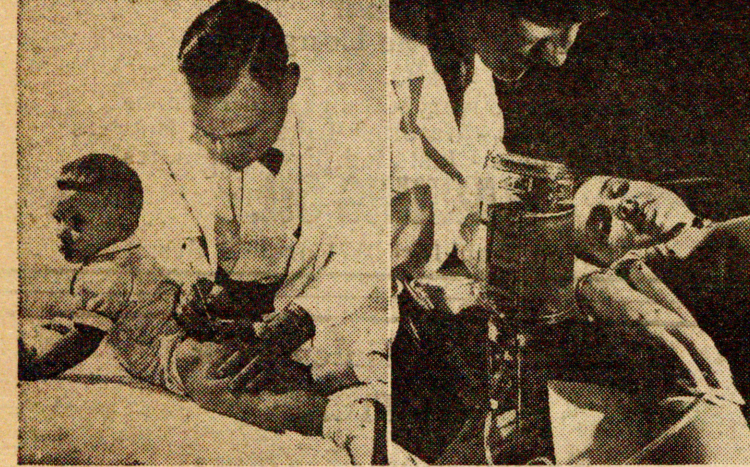

Gamma Globulin—obtained from human blood—gives protection for a few weeks. However, it is in VERY SHORT SUPPLY.

A vaccine is not ready for 1953. But there is hope for the future.

Meanwhile—when polio is around—follow these PRECAUTIONS.

RECOMMENDED BY THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

TO GET THIS WE MUST HAVE THIS

Years of trial-and-error research costing millions of dollars preceded the development of the new serum, gamma globulin, which doctors believe will prove a valuable weapon in the fight on polio. Injected into children who have been exposed to poliomyelitis or who live in epidemic areas, it has proven in recent tests to give limited protection against polio and its crippling after-effects. Gamma globulin is made from human blood and more donors are needed to provide this vital substance for this program, as well as for the armed forces. The Red Cross urgently appeals to the public through the National Blood Program to help meet this need. A pint of blood now does double duty—it helps America's soldier sons and protects America's children. Call the Chicago Chapter Red Cross for an appointment today.

Comments From The Bench
By Ruth
The Frankfort Girls Softball Team played its sixth game of the season Thursday evening against Wilmington and the "Frankforters" were handed their third defeat. Wilmington, behind the fast and controlled pitching of Faye Fiddle, defeated our girls 11 to 5. Sharon Sincox did a beautiful job of catching for Wilmington. Frankfort's battery was Arleen Fleisher pitching and Carole Peterson behind the plate.

The Wilmington team got off to a fast start, scoring five runs in the first inning on three hits, a walk, and an error. After a slow start, the Frankfort girls settled down and Wilmington's six runs were scattered over the remaining six innings.
The Frankfort girls batting average dropped considerably in this game as they were the victims of fly balls and strike outs continuously. It wasn't until the fourth inning that a Frankfort batter managed to get to third base. Irene Benck led off with one of the free passes issued, and got as far as third. In the fifth, however, one run scored. Carole Peterson walked and came home later on Lois Steinbach's single. A short rally came about in the sixth. The entire team batted around and four of the girls scored, putting Frankfort back into the game for a short time with a score of 9 to 5.

Wilmington bunched several hits and scored another two runs in their half of the seventh. One of the hits was a three base blow by Kay Treadman. But, in Frankfort's half of the seventh, it was three up, three down. The first batter grounded out and the next two went down on a called third strike.
After watching Wilmington's almost airtight infield and good outfield function, along with good pitching and catching, it was easy to see how they became Illinois champions last year.

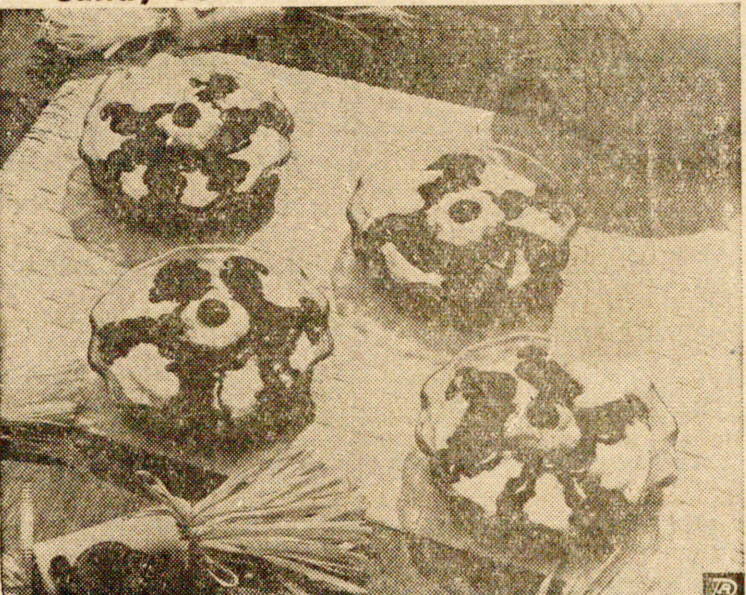

STOCK CAR ZONING
(CNS) A delegation of 20 residents of the Homewood area who appeared before the county board Monday to protest construction of an auto race track on 175th st. east of Halsted, on the site of the old Thornton Dow track learned of a "blind spot" in the county zoning laws drawn in 1940 which failed to foresee stock car racing.
Commissioner John Duffy told them that "racing establishments", which then meant horse racing, are permissible under farming district zoning and that it was doubtful the board could prevent completion of the track under the present law although a test is pending. No permit has yet been necessary although $12,000 has been spent on grading the half mile oval by Harvey Speedway, Inc. lessees.
The test case is a mandamus suit brought by Mrs. Amanda Tiedt and her son, Howard, owner and lessee of 18 acre Santa Fe Park at 91st and Wolf road, to compel the county to issue building permits for lighting and sewage disposal units for the stock car racing being operated there. Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher indicated at one hearing that the order would be granted, but the county has since filed an answer contending stock car racing is entirely different from the harness horse races held in the park 20 years ago at farmers' outings, which are meant by the zoning law, it contends.
"Stock car races consist of many autos of various ages something in a so-called race which consists largely of the driver of one car seeking to impede the progress of another, bumping and colliding," the answer stated.
The noise of auto racing "will cause a disturbance affecting entire village of Homewood" whose nearest point is 1/4 mile south, according to petitions with several hundred signatures previously filed with Albert Mullins, county zoning and building director. T. G. Bernhardt, village president, wrote that "people in the eastern half of the village are up in arms about it."

George Arquilla of the Burnside Construction Co. wrote his company planned to build 350 more homes on Halsted from 163rd to 187th and objecting to an added race track traffic hazard. V. R. Dawson, 18237 Center ave., Homewood, wrote that noise from racing at 130th and Ashland interfered with the bed time of small children when he lived a mile from that track.
Harvey Speedway, Inc., is owned by Anthony Saladine, 8200 S. Christina, Chicago, president of Harvey Oil Co. and G. I. Joes, Inc. his brother, Frank and City Commissioner George L. Gilley of Harvey. Anthony Saladine, president, said they plan to start sport car racing in the spring, after blacktopping the highly banked track and building grandstands and toilets.

They have just obtained a 10-year lease from the owner of the 17 acre tract, Albert G. Sinedinos, 1455 East 67th place, owner of the Horseneck tavern on the southeast corner of 175th and Halsted across from the Washington Park race track.
The county board on April 2 on the motion of Comr. John J. Mackler, Jr., overruled a zoning board recommendation that the dog track site be rezoned to business for use as a trailer camp by Sinedinos when nearby villages and school boards objected.

Candy Sundae . . . Treat of the Month

For a very special treat, serve this Whipped Cream Candy Sundae. It's rich and sweet-tasting yet uses only two flavor-giving ingredients: whipped cream and Milky Way candy bars. But that's the trick. For each Milky Way there are a number of sweet flavors: milk chocolate, malted milk, cocoa, corn syrup and sugar. Melt and pour over the whipped cream and you have a "sundae" to compete with the best served at the local ice cream parlor.
WHIPPED CREAM CANDY SUNDAE
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup hot water
2 Milky Way candy bars
1 cup heavy cream
2 tablespoons powdered sugar
Few drops vanilla flavoring
Softened gelatin in milk. When softened, add hot water; set aside until gelatin dissolves. Melt candy bars in top of double boiler. Whip cream until stiff. Add powdered sugar and vanilla. Then add 1/2 gelatin mixture to cream; other half to melted candy. Place in layers in a dessert dish. Top with a cherry. Makes 3 or 4 servings

Taxing Bodies In Will County To Get $890,850.76
A total of $890,850.76 in tax money was distributed to Will county's taxing bodies last week by Byron W. Hunte, county treasurer, representing current tax collections since he took over the 1952 tax collection program on June 1. The bulk of this was collected on 1952 tax bills during June.
Highest payment was $250,707.60 paid to the Joliet grade school district, and the lowest was 69 cents to the Plainfield fire district.
The major portion of the tax dollar goes to schools. Of the total distribution of $890,850 the county's secondary and elementary school districts received $573,495.56.
The Sunny Hill sanatorium will receive $13,492, with $9,490 going to the county health department. The forest preserve district will get $1770.26.

FIX-UP TIPS
For Farm and Home

Inside Wash-Up Room
ON THE farm, there usually is a building available for the installation of a wash-up house—a building within another, so to speak.
Glance at the illustration, and the simple construction of such a private room within the barn, machine shed, garage, or back porch will be evident. Actually, all that's needed is a framework of 2 by 4-inch lumber, spaced 16" apart to form the boundaries of the wash-up room, and some panels of 1/4" Tempered Presdwood.
The panels are easily nailed into place to form the room within a larger one. They are moisture-resistant and will stand considerable abrasion.
A shower may be made from a hoghead barrel and piping, as shown, or by a similar method which could well include heated water.

Many Dairy Herds Produce Over 400 Lbs. of Butterfat

Honor roll certificates for Dairy Herd Improvement Association members in this area whose herds produced an average of 400 pounds or more of butterfat during the association year ending March 31, 1953, have recently been received by Will County Farm Adviser Wayne Churchill.

The George Beutel & Sons purebred herd of Brown Swiss, Mokena, topped Association No. 1, tested by Frederick A. Holm. This outstanding herd had an average production of 478 pounds of butterfat per cow.

Other herds in this association producing 400 pounds or more of butterfat, together with the average production, were as follows: Louis Lauffer & Son, Mokena, 468; Walter Lauffer, Tinley Park, 464; Henkevill Farm, Tinley Park, 464; Wm. Bernard & Sons, 444; Grief & Maloney, Mokena, 418; Schiffler & McGlasken, Frankfort, 412; Glenwood

School for Boys, Glenwood, 411; Louis H. Holm & Son, Mokena, 47; Herbert Kohl, Matteson, 406; Arthur G. Henke & Son, Tinley Park, 400.

The Holstein herd of J. George Smith of Oswego had the highest yearly production in Association No. 2, tested by Chris Madsen of Lockport, averaging 541 pounds of butterfat.

Other herds in this association producing 400 pounds or more of butterfat, together with the average yearly production were as follows: Mrs. Basil Bennett & Son, Lemont, 506; Walter Stoeyen & Son, Beecher, 505; Arnold Brands & Son, Beecher, 467; Julius Sewing & Son, Elwood, 467; C. F. Nadelhoffer, Downers Grove, 446; Erickson & Mathers, Plainfield, 435; Meyer Brothers, Peotone, 433; Edwin E. Moore, Manhattan, 413; George Bovee, Manhattan, 409; Fred Von Alven & Simpson, Beecher, 405.

A lot of credit is due the dairymen who won these certificates. In the building of good herds, they have demonstrated to others the importance of good feeding, close culling, a planned breeding program, and careful management.

Christian Home

Lesson for August 2, 1953

YOU can have a Christian town more easily than a Christian nation. You can have a Christian one-man business more easily than a Christian corporation. You can have a Christian church more readily than a Christian school. But you can come closest to a Christian group, 100 per cent, in a Christian home than anywhere else in the world.

Home Has Its Problems

A good Christian home is not automatic. Its praises can be sung too loudly. In sentimental moods people talk and write poems and even preach about the home as if it were just naturally a heaven on earth. Nonsense! Like all good things it has to be planned and worked out. Or again, they talk about the Great American Home as if it were a special product of this American nation. But there were homes before America was discovered. There are good homes wherever Christians are—in China, Africa, India, Fiji. There is no magic about America that makes an American home the best on earth. It is Christianity, not race or geography, that makes the best homes.

A Christian home in Madagascar is likely to be better than a non-Christian home in Memphis. But even a Christian home has its problems. How can old and young live happily under the same roof when "happy" doesn't mean the same thing at six, sixteen and sixty? How can you have an Executive Committee (husband and wife) with no one to break a tie vote? How can a father steer between being too strict and not being strict enough? How can a growing child learn independence without wrecking the place? Of course home has its problems. Life has its problems, and you don't get rid of them even when every one concerned is a practicing Christian.

Some Christian Intentions
One reason why a home can be more nearly Christian than any other social group, is that you can come nearer sharing the same basic intentions in that group than in any other. One intention that must be woven into a true home is that of permanence. Homes cannot claim to be Christian if they are no more than campsites. If husband and wife are not in it for keeps, they lack the first of all intentions that keep a home together. Further, a home that is Christian will welcome children. If children are accepted grudgingly, if they are thought of mainly as "mouths to feed," "brats," it is not a Christian home. Another Christian intention is the Golden Rule. "Be done by as you did" is somebody else's rule, not Christ's. If you go looking for slights and insults, if you go around insisting always on your "rights," if you have a chronically unforgiving spirit, you don't fit into a Christian home.

Christ in the Home
There is a motto sometimes seen on a wall: "Christ is the Head of This House." What does it mean to have Christ in the house? His picture on the wall won't do it, though it may help. Pious mottoes won't do it unless they express the real heart of those who live there. What does it mean to have Christ, not as an obscure occasional guest, not a stranger, but as Head of the house? He is Head when his ideas are known, followed and loved. He is Head when every one has the habit of thinking, Is this what He would do? He is Head when his spirit is in every heart. He said himself that he came not to be served but to serve; and the Christian home is one where every member of it carries out that purpose of Christ. When in a home there is prayer each day in His name—that is to say, when all the daily prayers of the family are not just "Gimme" prayers but such as Christ Himself would endorse, when time is taken out every day for prayer and all together at least once in the twenty-four hours think quietly about what it means to be Christian, then it is more and more likely that Christ will be truly the Head of that house. The problems will be there, and they will not be easy even for Christians; but no problem of Christian living, even at close range, is impossible when Christians work them out together in His name.

Exterior of Ill. State Capitol To Get Face Lifting

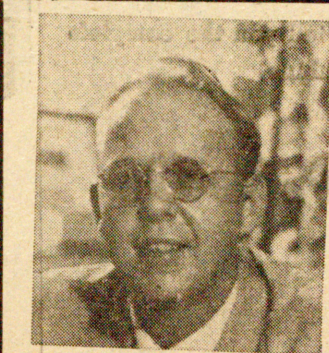

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter has announced that work would begin immediately on the restoration of the exterior of the State Capitol, the Archives and the Centennial buildings.

"These buildings, particularly the Capitol, are visited each year by thousands of children and their parents," Secretary Carpenter said. "To these visitors the buildings are a permanent, visible symbol of our state government. I believe they should be maintained in a manner that will give each citizen a justifiable sense of pride."

According to Secretary Carpenter, the exterior of the Capitol has not been cleaned during the past 16 years and deterioration of the face of the building has been rapid due primarily to the problem presented by pigeon and starling droppings. The cupola of the Statehouse and other portions of the building provide favorable nesting places for the birds and it is estimated that in excess of five tons of filth will have to be removed.

A recent outbreak of parrot fever (psittacosis) in Indianapolis, in which several persons died was traced by Indiana medical authorities to such deposits of filth which, when sufficiently dry is carried by the wind over wide areas. Scientists also suspect pigeons as the principal carriers of a tiny parasite which causes toxoplasmosis, a highly fatal disease.

The work requires the removal

Nurses Employment Standards Still Below Other Fields

Though nurses have achieved a 40 hour week in 45% of the 116 Illinois hospitals replying to a recent survey on personnel practices conducted by the Illinois State Nurses' Association, their general employment standards are still below those offered women in other fields according to association spokesmen. The I. S. N. A.'s committee on personnel policies in 1949 began the preparation of recommended minimum employment standards designed to bring nurses to a par with other groups of employed women. Hospitals throughout Illinois were sent copies of the latest recommendations for institutional nurses early in 1952. Twelve months later questionnaires were distributed to determine policies now in effect. Of the 348 Illinois hospitals, one third replied to the survey questions.

"Everyone who has ever complained about the lack of nurse personnel should support the efforts of our association to make the profession more attractive to young women," said Miss June A. Ramsey, executive secretary of the I. S. N. A.

"To improve the standards of patient care we must have more nurses. Our profession must compete for recruits with other careers which demand much less in education and responsibility and at the same time offer better employment standards for women. So long as this is true, nursing schools will never be able to attract students in sufficient numbers to meet the growing demand the nurses," stated Miss Ramsey.

BABSON SAYS—

Copyright-1953. Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc. Although I am still cautious as to the trend of business and still believe that the best investment today is in bank accounts, life insurance, and non-taxable bonds—yet I am not fearful of any serious crash from a Korean peace.

It is a fact that a large number of industries are benefiting from war work. Marginal people who otherwise would be unemployed are now working. Almost every reader of this column knows someone who is directly or indirectly engaged in war work. Studies show that the inefficient workers add up to much less than one would think probably to a total of only two or three million persons. This is less than 5% of the total employed today. The poorest workers of this group will lose their jobs if the Korean war ends and no other war starts. These will be people not interested in their work or those who are asking wages in excess of their real worth.

By far the greater fear of unemployment will come to those who are working on goods sold largely on installments or other forms of credit. This includes automobiles, refrigerators, television sets, homes and other things of which there is now a surplus. There may be a considerable turnover of employment when the Korean affair is cleared up, both from those engaged in war work and those dependent on the installment business. Good workers, interested in their jobs and earnestly striving to give their employer more than a dollar in value for every dollar received, have nothing to fear.

It is not healthy for the morale of the country to have inefficient people able to get jobs as easily as they are doing today. As I have said before, the next panic will not be a banking panic, or a railroad panic, or a stock market panic, but rather a consumers' panic, due to an excessive boom in jobs, mortgages, and a too rapid increase in wages. Avoid debt if possible. Pay your bills promptly and don't waste time on TV or anything else.

As a further check upon the situation, I find that the Gross National Product of the United States for 1953 is estimated at over $360 billions. It is generally agreed that so long as the cold war with Russia lasts, we will spend at least $30 billions annually on national security. This means a decrease of only $20 billions if active fighting on all fronts should cease. This figure of $20 billions is less than 8% of the total given above. I still insist that we have seen the peak of business and employment for the next two or three years unless further war breaks out. On the other hand, I am more optimistic on the situation than I was a few months ago. Instead of flying a "danger signal," I would fly a "caution signal."

It, therefore, will be seen that peace in Korea will bring an improved situation to many to offset the hardships to others. In other words, we are slowly changing from a war to a peace economy and every reader of this column should conscientiously consider how it will affect him or her, whether a banker, manufacturer, merchant, wage-worker or sales clerk, remembering that all of us are consumers. The purchasing power of the dollar is gradually increasing; prosperity is holding up better than anticipated; although, of course, it is impossible for the dollar to increase in value unless present abnormal wages at least level off.

Wageworkers fail to realize that their increased wages during the past war years have been due to new machinery. War always stimulates inventions which either reduce costs or improve the product. If we draw a line showing the money spent on research and new machinery by any company, it will usually show how much the company can pay in higher wages. None of us realize what we owe to the inventors of our country. The wonderful new machines, products, and processes about to come on the market keep me from being a pessimist.

Another use for an old rolling pin is illustrated by courtesy of the professional builders' magazine, American Builder.

The rolling pin has been installed at the top of a ladder to be used in painting a house. It has been covered with a piece of carpeting glued in place.

Other operations required to make this improvement, which simplifies the moving of the ladder and prevents scratching the wall, include the drilling of a hole through the center of the pin, lengthwise, and the insertion of a long threaded rod or bolt. Washers and jam nuts are then attached to hold the rolling pin firmly in place.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

It's Fine To Be Fooled -Sometimes

Handy Peters entertained for the ladies of the Auxiliary the other night—and had the ladies believing for a while that he's the best marksman ever.

Handy put on a great act. He set up a whole bunch of balloons on a muslin backdrop and then took out his pea-shooter. He shot blindfolded, standing on his head, every which way—and broke a balloon every time!

No wonder Handy impressed the ladies. What they didn't know—till the show's end—was that Buck Mulligan was hiding behind the backdrop improving on Handy's aim with a hatpin.

From where I sit, we all get things "put over" on us now and again. When it's good-natured—fine! But, some folks would like to fool the rest of us into believing it's wrong to enjoy an occasional glass of beer—just because they prefer something else. For real American tolerance and neighborliness these people are simply "off target."
